

ry ready in case we ever have had an opportunity to donate a basket should get in touch with S. H. Werner, general manager, and give him their name.

It is planned to notify every lady who has offered to contribute a basket, just what she shall furnish, as they will only be asked to supply salad, cake, and possibly bread. The Chamber of Commerce will provide meat.

The refreshment committee expects to receive offers of donations in beef and gravy and those who are in a position to make such donations are urged to either see the committee or notify the manager. A crowd of over two thousand people will be in Coopers on that day and we certainly do not want to be lacking in entertainment and refreshments. This will be one of the greatest days we have seen in many years in Coopers.

Ladies Auxiliary

At the "dinner" meeting, it was decided that all immediate female relatives of the members of the Chamber of Commerce would be accepted as members. This will include mothers, wives, daughters, sisters, mothers-in-law, etc., etc.

Miss Mildred Moore, who has been in school at Mt. Pleasant, returned home to Coopers, spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Jackson.

"This is an effort which we have in the ladies of Coopers and their ability to do things that count," said President Addison.
